DX and the Paper Chase

Several years ago Microsoft® used a catchy slogan while marketing its Windows® operating system that asked: "Where Do You Want To Go Today?" Before I sit down at my radio station daily, I ask myself the same question and by the end of the day I've been somewhere near and far. Any of you who have been on HF over the past several weeks can say "I've been someplace." As the mystery of propagation unfolded thanks to sunspot Cycle 24, DX has been plentiful and the signals have been exemplary. There are several DXpeditions going on that have been racking up the numbers as the bands continue to improve. On 17-meters in the morning hours, European stations have been wall to wall and the signals have been superb. You know the band conditions are good when the DX stations want to have a QSO rather than a 59 and good DX. Late in the afternoon (early evening) the JA's have been booming in on 17...it's getting to be like old times at the top of Cycle 23. I'm closing in on my DXCC 300 endorsement and I noticed that almost every one of the last 100 DXCC countries (entities) that I have confirmed have come from DXpeditions. The DX community owes a huge debt of gratitude to the hearty souls who work so hard to put on these events all over the world, so Radio Amateurs can achieve DXCC credits. Some of these DXpeditions cost upwards of $500 thousand for ships, helicopters, and logistics beyond one's imagination. My hat is off to all of the hearty souls who have a love of the hobby and share it with the DX community worldwide. For those of you who would like some midnight reading, I would encourage you to bring up the ARRL website (DXCC rules) and read The Ethics And Operating Procedures For The Radio Operator. The manual is in PDF form and if I had my way, every Amateur would be required to read this prior to upgrading to operate HF. That's about it from the friendly DXer from way up in Huntersville for now reminding you to sit down at your radio and call CQ because someone somewhere is listening for your call. So long from Huntersville, 73 and good DX from Bob/WØZPE.

Bits and Pieces: We are always looking for some program ideas. Or could you put one on? Do you know of someone in another club who has done a program that would be of interest? Please let Steve KCØYTE, our able VP know. His e-mail address is <steve.mott at landisgyr.com> (replace the at with the @ sign, to prevent Spam)

Wonder how to make the Ø in your ham radio correspondence? Just hold down the Alt key while typing in 0216 on the numerical keypad—and there you will have it! We have some 72 members now—at last count for 2009. Please make the job of treasurer easier by sending your 2010 dues in ASAP.

Our thanks to Roger WØWUG who helped arrange some valuable repeater programming help from Dan Karg, KØTI, of Woodbury. Karg programmed the 444.925 Motorola repeater that was donated to the Club and will be used as a portable here. Dan also reprogrammed a Motorola mobile unit that Al WØRC was going to use as a standby APRS node. Thanks, Roger and Dan.

PUBLIC SERVICE and SPECIALEVENT ACTIVITIES of BAARC as SIGNIFICANT
COMMUNITY SUPPORT and MEMBER
PROFICIENCY TRAINING

Introduction

Over many years, more than 40, the Brainerd Area Amateur Radio Club (BAARC) has been a part of the greater Brainerd Lakes Community. The members have done this by continually operating the club in the public interest by providing regular meetings, face-to-face, and over-the-air activities, to further the Club's role and to extend its vision to all interested persons. Club radio communications activities have supported a wide variety of community organizations engaged in non-profit and/or public services. Members have used their own equipment and/or operated the club's radios and computers to provide administrative and public safety information in support of specific activities.

General

In 2009, BAARC club members volunteered their time in support of other organizations engaged in these community activities: the Jaycees Ice Fishing Contest in January which involved over 10 thousand participants and their Marathon in April which attracted several hundred runners and public spectators; during the Mid-Minnesota Dog Sled Race in February members kept track of the progress of all the teams by accounting for each at several checkpoints along the 65-mile course; in June and September radio operators provided logistic and public-safety radio services to two community-based bicycling clubs assisting them in their day-long activities; and on Halloween in October the Club provided direct communications support to the law enforcement agencies in Crow Wing County to reduce the threat of and/or report vandalism and other inappropriate community activity.

This Club activity has its benefits in at least two ways: first, in adding to the served organization's ability to run or operate their event, and second, by providing BAARC members with training in operating under wide and varied conditions that would simulate what could be anticipated in a community communications emergency, such as a loss of 9-1-1 service, where a separate link to the 9-1-1 answering point would be established using ham radio operators and their equipment. It also could be handling health and welfare messages for displaced persons as the result of a natural disaster and/or the activation of emergency shelters. Member participation in each of the above mentioned events supports the development of communications skills needed in the event of an emergency call-out.

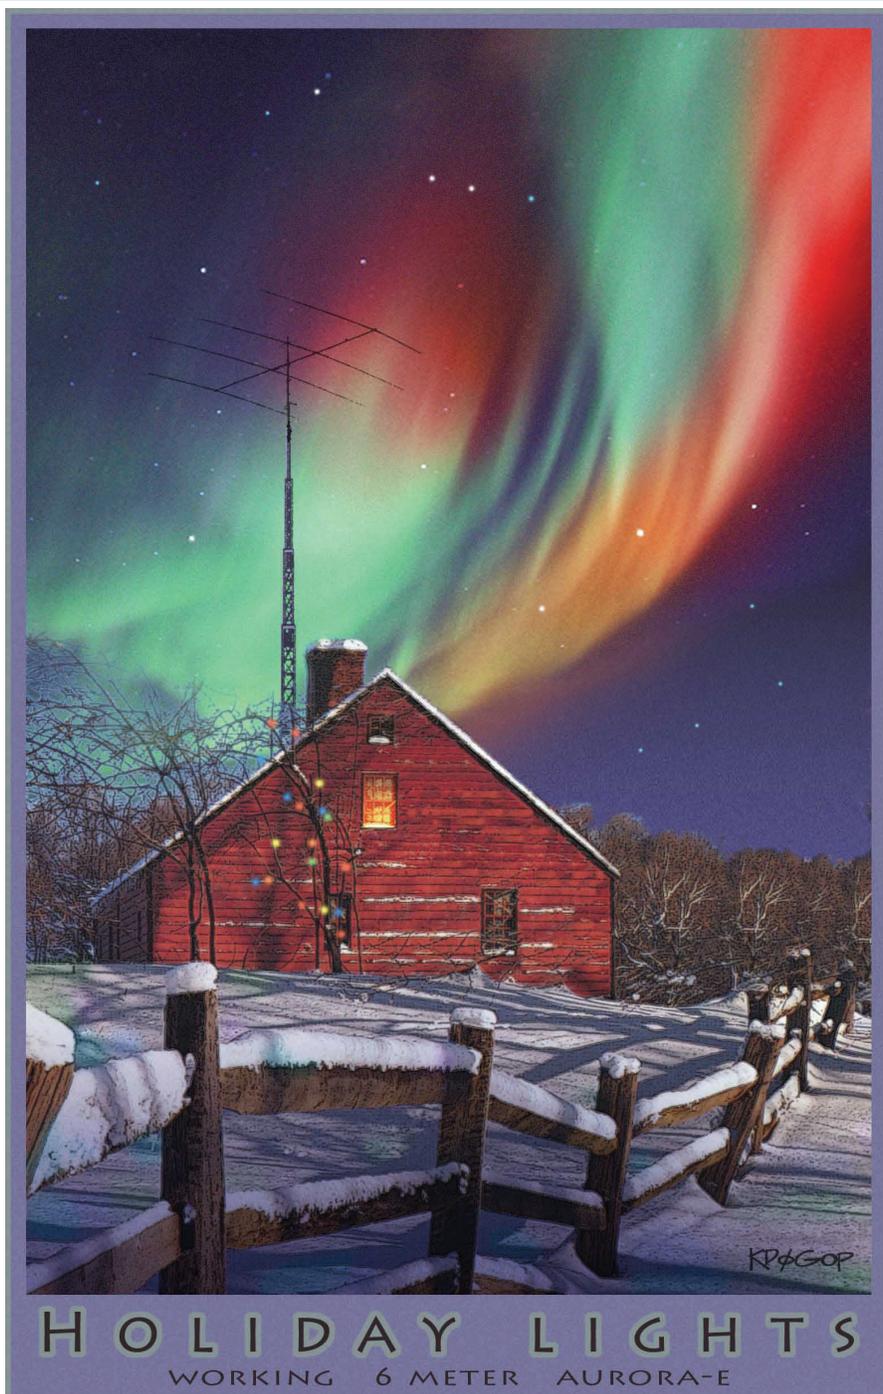

Other BAARC activities have similar usefulness in the way they engage operators and various types of equipment. These include those activities that mix social interaction with the communications tasks, such as the annual Field Day, where for a 24-hour period Club and member stations operate under simulated emergency conditions with the public invited to attend and observe. Another is the Crosby Mines Pick-Up Day, when members are able to donate to the state DNR some work by picking up trash in return for use of the beautiful Cuyuna Country State Recreation Area. Also, the annual Club-sponsored Hamfest, where many amateurs from all over our area gather to meet one another, buy and sell equipment, and have an opportunity to get a license by being tested by designated volunteer FCC examiners. Of course, there are other purely social activities like the Saturday Morning Breakfasts held about twice each month and the Annual Spring Dinner. These are followed by the late Summer Picnic with its annual Hidden Transmitter Hunt.

Other BAARC activities include the FCC amateur license classes for entry-level Technicians, mid-level General class, and the Extra class license for those interested in going that far for full-privileges. In addition, participation in SKYWARN weather-spotting activities is one of the oldest Club public service dating back to the 1970's, according to our records. The latter activity is sponsored by the National Weather Service and is directed, in this area, from its Duluth office. Equally important and relatively recent in its use here is the APRS capability that many BAARC members have has aided SKYWARN weather spotting, as it is read-out in Duluth enabling the NWS personnel to direct hams activity in the field to produce more accurate and faster results.

As a result of having so many BAARC members willing to participate in these and other activities not mentioned and achieving a high level of interest in emergency communication services, the Club's Executive Board of Directors took action this past year to formalize its relationship with the ARRL in the area. The outcome was the recommended appointment of a county Emergency Communications Coordinator. John Luce, WØWY, received this appointment. His additional role will be to continue to liaison with Crow Wing County Emergency Management Services Personnel. Thereby we develop our readiness at the EOC and with the Communications Supervisor at the 911 Law Enforcement. Furthermore, we organize and coordinate our efforts in planning and participating at the regional, state and national levels under the ARRL's ARES, or Amateur Radio Emergency Service.

(Editor's Note: This Report was presented at the 11-19-09 meeting and also written up by John WØWY, BAARC Director of Emergency Communications and ARRL Emergency Coordinator for Crow Wing County)

A Christmas of Blessings to All of Our Fellow Club Members and Their Families. Ron Finger, KDØGOP, our secretary-elect and professional artist created this masterpiece. He got his inspiration from WØYA's copy of Sky & Telescope and liked the play on words between "Holiday Lights and Northern Lights." Ron goes on to say : "I think it's a good reminder of how God always outdoes us with His wonders; that's why I put in the forlorn little string of lights outside the house." We cannot agree more, Ron! Thanks you for this gem.

By the way, it should be noted that Steve KCØYTE and Lyle KØLFV collaborated on the great pictorial tour of many of the Club's 2009 activities—all presented in slide-show format. As was mentioned, John WØWY presented a detailed narration at the meeting also—members have that in written form from John on page 4. Also Lyle and his son Tom (NØVFM) put together a neat video (film) of our 2009 Hamfest. That creative effort was a new experience for us, and it was a pleasure to see much of the activity that weekend in June brought to life on the screen. Thank you, Guys!!

Condolences to John KCØWCG of Wadena. Many of us know of him by his taking on NCS duties even though he is not a member of the BAARC. John's youngest daughter died last month, and we, may of us as parents, can certainly identify with the loss an offspring would be. The BAARC has sent a card to him and his family, and John acknowledged it on the Sunday night net. He now knows that our thoughts and prayers are with him and his family.

Know anyone who needs a card of cheer? Please let Fritz know of any Club member hospitalized or ill, so that the Club can send an appropriate card for that occasion and others.
